

BADGERLATTÉ REFLECTIVE NOTE SHEET

More Than Books: Using Teachingbooks.net To Prepare Your Curriculum

Two authors or titles that my students and/or colleagues are reading for which I want to find multimedia resources:

1:

2:

Two ideas for supporting the Common Core Standards for ELA & Literacy that I want to share with my administrators and colleagues when I return to school:

1:

2:

Two strategies for supporting my literacy work that were mentioned in this presentation and that I want to try integrating into my own instructional work:

1:

2:

Two students or colleagues whom I want to show a resource or strategy from this presentation:

1:

2:

SUMMARY CHECKLIST: I now know how to do the following...

- Enable my students and colleagues to learn from authors of the books they are reading—online, anytime.
- Easily find relevant instructional materials about the books that I am teaching.
- Help my students pursue their own personal interests in literature and informational reading.
- Support the Common Core Standards for ELA & Literacy.
- Reinforce the integration of technology and reading into all of my literacy activities.
- Further the joy of reading for my students, families, and everyone in my school community.

---

TeachingBooks.net is provided to all Wisconsin schools through BadgerLink, a project of the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction (DPI), Division for Libraries, Technology, and Community Learning.

Access: Via BadgerLink.net or direct at <http://TeachingBooks.net/home>

Username should be left blank and enter Password: OnWisconsin (1 word, case-insensitive)

Questions? Nick Glass, Founder & Executive Director, nick@TeachingBooks.net (800) 596-0710